DISCLAIMER

Inspection reports are based upon observed procedures and inspections performed by Atlantic Crane Inspection Services, but are not intended to replace or supersede the necessity for routine or preventative maintenance procedures recommended by others, such as, but not limited to: manufacturers, operators, and other inspecting organizations. Referral to applicable regulation is essential with regard to responsibilities of owners and users for use, maintenance, and normal operational inspections. It is especially important that owners and users, regularly and by means of extraordinary disassembly and/or non-destructive testing arrange to effectively examine parts of the equipment which may be reasonably accessible by routine examinations, including such examinations by Atlantic Crane Inspection Services.

Equipment owners and users should assure continuous compliance with all manufacturer's specifications, including, but not limited to: full range accuracy of load indicating devices, machinery, etc. regardless of the extent to which specifications can be evaluated during Atlantic Crane Inspection Services.

Other requirements of applicable Federal and State regulations not specifically considered with the scope of recorded by related Atlantic Crane Inspections Services' reports, remain for the continuing attention and responsibility of equipment owner and users, including, but not limited to: adequate lighting, walkways, ladders, stairways, clearance between moving and fixed structures, electrical motor restart lockouts, fire extinguishers in the vicinity, etc.
